Did you know that if your propeller model begins with an M that it was manufactured before May of 1968?

Prior to May of 1968, propellers that were METAL (aluminum) were designated as such with the prefix of M, and wooden propellers carried the prefix of W. This helped the sales desk to distinguish the models, as there are several Sensenich Propeller Models that are manufactured from both wood and metal.

While our wooden propeller company in Florida still carries their "W" prefix, metal propellers have changed their designation. Below is a simple chart to use as a cross reference. In addition, see our "Model Designation" document for more information on just what all those letters and numbers mean in our prop models.
